Midwest Integrated Companies is the leading producer of manufactured wood products specializing in Mulch and Biomass. Manufacturing superior products from the finest feedstock materials, we deliver our quality products with our own fleet of vehicles... Whether you require a few yards for a home gardening project or large volumes, we can meet your needs.

We understand that great priced products without quality will not last.

We value the feedback and input that we receive from our clients who constantly assist us in reengineering our materials to higher and higher specifications. We are your partner in building a successful, sustainable business for you. Our staff of professionals will meet with you and review how we can develop a strategy to expand our supply relationship with you.

We understand that production without service will not endure.
